REPORT OF THE MANAGING EDITOR OF THE AMERICAN
ECONOMIC REVIEW FOR THE YEAR
ENDING DECEMBER, 1918

The cost of publishing the AMERICAN ECONOMIC REVIEW during the current year has been $7,793.77 as compared with $8,006.68 in 1917. This saving is largely due to a reduction in the number of pages printed. The volume for this year covers 906 pages as compared with approximately 1000 pages in preceding years. The printing item, therefore, is about $250 less than in 1917. Clerical assistance, owing to a slight advance in the salary list, is a little higher. By principal items the cost has been as follows:

Printing	$3497.73
Salary of editor.....	1500.00
Payments to contributors.....	1203.25
Clerical assistance	1260.06
Supplies	332.73
<hr/>
Total	$7793.73

The average edition published during the past year has been 3050, the same as that of the previous year.

The following have served as editors: Professor T. W. Page and Dr. J. L. Coulter, whose terms expire this year; Professor F. A. Fetter and Professor H. E. Mills, whose terms expire in 1919; and Professor G. E. Barnett and Dr. L. H. Haney, whose terms expire in 1920.

There have been but few changes in the staff which has contributed to regular departments. In the abstracting of periodicals Professor Clive Day has just resigned. No successor has yet been appointed to take his place. Mr. A. J. Dadisman, of the University of West Virginia, has succeeded Dr. J. L. Coulter in agricultural economics.

During the past year 106 persons have coöperated in writing for the REVIEW, including leading articles, communications, reviews, document notes, and periodical abstracts.

Appended are comparative tables showing the distribution of contents and costs by principal items, in continuation of tables previously given.

DAVIS R. DEWEY,
Managing Editor.
